

Atelier Raspail

Rosé, 2019

ABOUT THE WINE

Charles Bieler's first winemaking experiences were in the south of France. It's only fitting that his Ateliers Raspail Rose takes its cues from Provence. Bieler ran over 30 small fermentations to help the fruit and floral aromas shine in this crisp rose. Expect delicate aromas of raspberry and peach, along with lavender and a citrusy kick.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Vin de Méditerranée region overlaps with Provence, but allows vintners more flexibility and creativity in their winemaking methods. By comparison, wines labeled "Provence" or "Champagne" must produce wine according to a strict set of rules determined by the French government

ABOUT THE REGION

The Méditerranée is a wine growing region in France that spans from the Southern Alps to the warm, dry Mediterranean. The majority of French rosés come from this region, which overlaps with Provence.

TASTING NOTES

Don't be fooled by the pretty pink color: this is a serious wine. The delicate layers of fruit in this bottle were carefully constructed during over 30 small batch fermentations using dozens of different yeasts. The result is a bottle that is as complex as it is beautiful. It's full of ripe summer berries paired with a creamy lush texture.

If you're struggling to identify aromas in a wine, try starting with broad categories. Is there fruit? Is it citrus fruit, orchard fruit, or a berry? See if you can distinguish the berry aromas in this wine, like strawberry and raspberry.

Match this wine's symbol to a Blue Apron Meal
